

Rüdiger Feil won the first Fly-Off round and so his second 1000-flight

Today Rüdiger Feil from Germany achieved 287.5 points, followed by Patrick Kessler from Switzerland (276 points) and Bernhard Egger from Austria. The pictures will show you some atmosphere from today.

Tomorrow there are the fly-off 2 and fly-off 3, beginning at 9:00. The team-managers are asked to watch the time for transmitter impound (8:00 to 8:45)!

We wish the fly-off competitors the best luck for their flights tomorrow!

Markus Fiehn and Stefanie Scholz: Professional IT Management

Markus Fiehn is the most important person regarding IT-management here on the EC's. He is the man who realized the fantastic competition calculation of the results including the online live-ticker in the web. His girl friend Stefanie Scholz assists him perfectly.

Thank you Markus and Stefanie for doing this great job here for us all!

Dieter Schlüter's lecture

About 120 visitors listened observant Dieter Schlüter's lecture, which was held today evening in the congress center. He told about the time approximately 35 years ago and showed a video from the frustrating but also successful tests in the beginning of controlled model helicopter flying. – Thank you very much, Dieter! It was amazing to listen your lecture and to see your precious documents!

The final race was held this afternoon. The team Greece/Cyprus won the exciting race with four teams in the same lap but maybe the moral winner is Austria, whose axle broke eight laps before the end. This forced Bernie Egger to absolve half a lap on his feet to change the car and costed the safely leading team the victory.
